WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 1891.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Work is progressing nicely at the brick plant.

The brick plant paid out last week about $400 for labor.

There's nothing slow about this town now, but Liburn Smith's mail.

Prof. Brown opened a private school in the High school building Monday.

Wild turkey served in the best style at the way Barred Beards feeds you at the Beards Hotel.

Prof. McAniff left for Garrett last Friday, where he opens a Normal school, for the benefit of teachers.

Miss Lydia Graham was awarded the gold medal at the High school for the greatest progress in penmanship.

There will be preaching in Fisher's Hall next Monday night, by Elder I. V. Gregory of the Christian church.

W. R. Moreman came home from Glendale Monday. He left yesterday for Chicago where he has a fine position.

Dyspepsia's victims are numbered by thousands. So are the people who have been restored to health by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. Alexander Nix, of Hardinsburg, went to Owensboro yesterday to appear before the board of examiners for an increase of pension.

Rev. M. H. Wells, D. D., of Owensboro, will preach in the Methodist church here next Sunday. He and Bro. Brundage have exchanged pulpits for that day.

Mr. J. M. Bell will occupy his new home on the hill, next Tuesday. The Interstate Building and Loan Association assisted Mr. Bell in the way of a loan which enabled him to secure this home.

With two good brass bands Cloverport's musical talent seems to keep pace with other lines of progress and development. And by the way, what's more satisfying and invigorating than a brass band.

The Knights of Pythias, of this city, will give a strawberry and ice cream entertainment about the 25th of May. Ladies from Owensboro, Henderson, Madison and Carleton, will be invited and a large attendance is expected.

District Conference of the M. E. church South will convene at Owensboro, Ky., on Wednesday May 27th. Bro. Fitzgerald is expected to preside, and the presence of this eminent divine will certainly attract a large attendance.

There will be three brick smoke stacks at the brick plant each fifty feet high. The drying capacity of the dry house will be forty tons of water per day. These are just a few pointers thrown out to let some people know that it's a little bigger thing than they imagine.

The High School closed last Friday with very satisfactory results. The session although short has been a very successful one and the work done both by pupils and teachers meets with the highest approval of the board and patrons. Prof. McAniff, with his able corps of assistants in the person of Prof. Aug. Powers, J. H. Myles, Miss Minnie Murray and Miss Annie Baitt, have proven themselves worthy of their high position, and merit the applause of all who are interested in the cause of education.

We call attention to the advertisement of a diploma which appears in this paper. This is the first horse Mr. Williams has ever brought into county. He is bred in the height of fashion; and is a grand individual, and his colts show that he can transmit the beauty of the King Rene family.

The Cloverport Cornet band was out last Saturday night dispensing some very delightful music, and the News is especially indebted to them for a most pleasing awakening. The band is making wonderful progress for the time they have been practicing, and as the News has been pleased to remark before, it is destined to be one of the best bands in the county.

Mrs. Eli Parr, living near Clifton Mills, shipped to Louisville last week three dozen spring chickens that netted her a little over $4.00 per dozen. They were about the size of partridges. She has about 200 more that will soon be ready for market. The chicken industry of this county needs more attention. Raise a few more chickens and less to beacco.

That's a very "Busy Bee Society" at Owensboro, and we imagine from yesterday there was very little "honey" left in that city. Seven coaches all jammed with people was the size of the excursion. About fifty people were added here and several turned off on account of the crowd. It will doubtless be the largest excursion ever run into Louisville from over the Texas.

Rev. G. C. Overstreet's five minutes talk at Hardinsburg is in odd type in this office, and it, like a world of good things he has said in his time, may perhaps be lost to him and also public for ever. It is the hardest thing we ever tried in fact an impossibility to crowd eight columns of matter into seven columns of space. This was our awful condition on going to press last evening, and the Doctor's speech with several other communications had to go. We are sorry and the only recompense we make the Doctor, is to promise him our very hearty support at the convention next Saturday.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid form of Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle yet efficient in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

GLENDENE.

We are having delightful weather.

Farmers are very much behind with their corn planting.

Dr. Dempster and daughter, May, went to Irvington last Saturday.

W. C. Moorman was in Louisville and Cloverport last week.

Mr. Milton Craig, of Muldenburg county, is spending the summer at Dr. Z. O. Moorman's.

Miss Maggie Moorman went to Irvington last Saturday.

We would like to hear from "Spring Beauty" again. It is a lot of knowledge is not entirely exhausted.

Miss Jackie Owen has spent some time visiting friends at Irvington.

Mr. Vennie-Moorman should be congratulated for the excellent manner in which he superintends our Sunday school.

On Saturday at 6:30 a. m. at the residence of Dr. R. T. Dempster, Mr. Will Countryman and Miss Mattie Eakridge were united in marriage. Rev. Chandler, Falls of Rough, officiating. They left on the early train for Seaton, Ind., and on their return will take rooms at the McGlothlin House, Irvington.

On Wednesday, April 15th, at 7:28 a. m. Mr. C. L. Corwell, of Louisville, and Miss Maggie Dean, were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dean, the Rev. W. B. Kestledge officiating. Immediately after the ceremony they left for an extended tour through the East, and when they return will make their home in Louisville.

Hon. W. J. Hendrick.

We present to our readers this week a portrait of Hon. Wm. J. Hendrick, one of the leading candidates for Attorney General, seeking a nomination at the hands of the May Democratic Convention for that office. His home is at Flemingsburg in Fleming county.

Mr. Hendrick is comparatively a young man and possesses one of the brightest intellects in the State. His abilities and reputation as an orator are unsurpassed, and withal he is one of the best and most companionable of men. He distinguished himself in placing the lamented Woolford Longmire before the last State Convention, and at once established his reputation for eloquence and power, and is formidable in the race for Attorney General.

IRVINGTON.

John McEver is with us.

L. D. Addison was in town Saturday.

Hon. D. R. Murray, of Cloverport, was in town Thursday.

Mr. Newman has a bad eye. Cold in it.

J. D. Babbage touched the town recently on a collecting tour.

R. M. Jolly went to Louisville Monday.

Thos. Atkinson has been in Louisville on business.

Emmet Richardson's new double story business house will soon be completed.

Honore Stewart and family, of Webster, have moved to Irvington.

Morris Deard, of Hardinsburg, comes and goes every fortnight.

We know from Vincent Morris cometh, but not to where he goeth.

Clarence Paris, our convivial night operator, went fishing Saturday night and caught 172 pounds of carp.

Tom. Becker, the tobacco fiend of Johnson Bros., was in town this week distributing his usual quantity of loaded cigars.

War Countryman, of this place, and Miss Mattie Eakridge, of Rockville, were married at the house of the bride April 20th. The groom is a sober, industrious gentleman and the bride is an accomplished lady. They have gone to Indianapolis on their wedding trip.

Miss Myrtle Chandler, of Falls of Rough, and Miss Jackie Owen, of Glendale, are visiting Mrs. Thomas Chandler.

Mrs. W. R. Bates, of Louisville, who has been visiting Mrs. Bates Washington, has returned home.

The Rev. Paris, of Louisville, preached two forcible sermons to a large and attentive audience Sunday. Mr. Paris is a young man of more than ordinary ability.

Bro. Dowden, who by reason of sickness, has not preached recently will occupy the pulpit at the next regular church meeting.

Frank Boyd and John Warfield, of Cloverport, passed through the city Sunday morning on their way to Rowlett.

Everybody and his neighbor went to Louisville today on the church excursion. One dollar is just our size.

We have had the pleasure of going through the mill of Boyd Bros. It is certainly a credit to any town or country to have such a place. They are genuine housewives and are always first to cry out to anything new. The scarcity of wheat prevents them from filling half the orders they receive.

Bob. McGlothlin is agitated at present. He wined a lady friend on the East bound train Wednesday, and of course he went in, took a seat by her side, and talked rapidly until the train moved off. He left her happily, but she checked him with these words—bring back my pocket book. A man weighing in the neighborhood of two hundred and fifty pounds collared the gentleman, but at this stage of the game the book and contents fell to the floor. The big man released Bob for everything was now very plain. The lady had placed her cheeking on the book. He had over advocated a reform school to persuade young girls not to chew gum while traveling.—[We have another version of this story which will appear next week.—Ed.]

JOHN J. FLOOD, Adm'r.

As seasons come and seasons fly,
And folks start out, new goods to buy,
They come without delay
To us, because our choice supply
Includes the newest styles; that's why
The dollars come our way.

Our prices are so very low,
There's nowhere else it pays to go.—
That's what the buyers say,
There's money saved in every trade,
And that is what has always made
The dollar come our way.

Our stock's the markets' pick and prize
Its quality excites surprise:
It's such a big display,
No wonder we the trade command;
All buyers seek headquarters, and
The dollar comes our way.

The magnetism of our store,
Is simply this, and nothing more:
Fair treatment every day,
Like water, dollars run down hill,
To find their level in our till:
The dollar comes our way.

No License Required of Tobacco Dealers or Manufacturers, But They Must Register.

The revenue officials report that the special tax money is beginning to come in. Many dealers in different parts of the district are sending in the money by the special tax stamps they will need in their business. Some of them are sending in for stamps as retail dealers in manufactured tobacco, seeming not to have heard of the law requiring the old statute requiring them to pay a government license. No dealer in tobacco in any form or manufacturers of tobacco is required now to pay any tax to the government. Retail dealers in leaf tobacco and manufacturers of tobacco and cigars are required, however, to register in each place where they do business. For instance if a man wants to sell leaf tobacco in Louisville and Whitesville, he will have to register in each place and keep a different set of books of sales for each business. A man at Paducah who is selling leaf tobacco and cigars, about it. The matter was referred to the commissioner, and yesterday an answer was received containing the rule above referred to. This will prevent the peddling of leaf tobacco in any way, as it would be impossible to register with the collector for every peddler's sale, and keep a different book for it. There are no changes in the license fee of liquor dealers. The tax on tobacco has been reduced 2 cents per pound. Some of the people who buy tobacco, and not a few who sell it are of the opinion that this reduction in the tax will correspondingly reduce the price of the tobacco, but the revenue people are of the opinion that this will not be the case, especially so as the license fees have anything to do with tobacco. It is very difficult to find a reduction in the tax on anything where the benefit ever reaches the consumer if the Republican party is responsible for the abolition of the duty on sugar, which was accomplished by Democratic methods, supplemented by a Republican mischievous scheme. —Owensboro Messenger.

Appetite a Good Doctor.
When the health is fair, good, and there is no special strain to be put upon the system, the normal appetite may be trusted to indicate the kind and quantity of food necessary to maintain that condition. Naturally the appetite varies with the changing seasons, and unless it indicates an unreasonable excess of indulgence or abstinence no attention need be paid to any other monitor. Much harm is done by injudicious use of the system often before the mischievous advice to take some pills or pills, or refrain from fattening food or drink. Paying attention to any of these facts is like playing with fire. If you are ill enough to need to warrant any radical change of diet or any application of medicine, consult your physician at once. Above all, avoid quick medicines. To use the opinion of a medical dealer in them, whose bank balance is more liberal than his conscience, they are "made to sell." —Harper's Bazar.

A Duty to Yourself.
It is surprising that people will use a common ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. I think that a long and close examination with men will support the conclusion that most people masticate with the teeth on the left side of the jaw. A few people chew on the right side, most, however, on the left. How do I explain it? Oh, it is partly habit, partly the result of necessity, broken or defective teeth, etc. Next time you go to a restaurant with a large party just notice the various and distinct ways in which the people present chew. It will surprise you. Not only do some chew on both, but will, judge for yourself." —Interview in Detroit Free Press.

A Fine Sermon.
Young Master X, an obedient youth of 5. He returned from church, and was sent upstairs that his maid might remove his lordship's top coat. The following conversation ensued, which is dedicated respectfully to a certain well known clergyman:

Maid—Were you a good little boy in church today?
Young Master X—Oh, yes. Mamma said I was very little boy.

Maid—Did you have a fine sermon today?
Young Master X—I guess you did. It sounded like a very fine one, indeed.

"Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings," etc.—Brooklyn Life.

Girls Who Ride and Pay.
Thompsonville girls stand a good deal of chaffing because they go on sleighing parties all by themselves and leave the young men out. They report that they can go and have a good time and pay the bills, too, without asking any help from the boys. They are not the slightest bit afraid to go to school and howling through the streets, waking folks up after midnight, either.—Springfield (Mass.) Homestead.

Quin was out at a grand dinner party.
The master of the house, pushing a delicious pudding toward Quin, begged him to taste it. A gentleman had just before helped himself to an immense piece of it. "Pray," said Quin, looking first at the gentleman's plate and then at the dish, "which is the pudding?" —San Francisco Argonaut.

A Strategic Promoter.
A man told me the other day—he would not have his name mentioned for evident reason—that when he had a big scheme to push the first thing he did was to get into bed with the people he wanted to interest in his enterprise. "Then, of course," said he, "by helping me on they help themselves." Specious logic, to be sure, but cleverly plausible on its outward face.—Boston Traveler.

Letter Restriction.
Fledgling "C" is in over with us I wish you would return me the ring and watch I gave you.
Alice—I cannot give them to you until after Lent.

Fledgling—But I insist upon them now.
Alice—You know Mr. Fledgling, that I cannot indulge in any pleasure during this season.—Jewellers Circular.
